The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it has not been presented in the proper domestic form. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 and 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Karimian et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,245,903).

Karimian et al disclose isopropanolate of azithromycin (column 4). The claimed compound is anticipated by Karimian et al. In addition, if there are any differences between the claimed compound and the prior art compound, such differences would appear to be minor in nature and the claimed compound, which falls within the scope of the prior art's compound, would have been prima facie obvious from the said reference's disclosure to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made.

Claims 1-5 and 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Li et al (WO 02/094843).

Li et al disclose isopropanolate of azithromycin (page 3, lines 18-24 and page 16, lines 21-28). The claimed compound is anticipated by Li et al. In addition, if there are differences between the claimed compound and the prior art compound, such differences would appear to be minor in nature and the claimed compound, which falls within the scope of the prior art's compound, would have been prima facie obvious from the said reference's disclosure of a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made.

Claims 7-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
